Spring 2018 Course Descriptions

Instructor: William Bedford Clark
Course: 337
Title: Life and Literature of the American South

Description: A close study of representative works from the 1920s to the present, designed to foster better understanding of the history and culture of the region. Authors include Faulkner, Porter, Gaines, Wright, Warren, and Williams. Trigger warning: Southern literature, like the world it reflects, often presents painful and troubling issues and is not for the faint of heart.