

SAVANNAH FOREMAN

COLLEGE STATION, TX 77840 | SFOREMAN@TAMU.EDU

EDUCATION

Texas A&M University, College Station, TX
MA in English, Digital Humanities and Rhetoric
(in progress, 2019)

Lamar University, Beaumont, TX
BA in English, minor in writing (2017)
GPA: 3.847, Summa cum laude

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Graduate Teaching/Research Assistant August 2017 - Present
Texas A&M University English Department

- Instructor for ENGL 104 (Rhetoric and Composition)
- Research Assistant for Dr. Sara DiCaglio (January 2018 – May 2018)
- Assistant Instructor for ENGL 210 (Technical Business Writing)

Substitute Teacher April 2017 – Present
College Station ISD

Student Assistant Aug. 2014 - May 2017
Lamar University English & Modern Languages Department

Publishing Intern Aug. 2015 - Dec. 2015
Lamar University Literary Press

PUBLICATIONS AND PRESENTATIONS

- Presentation of “Poe’s Flaneur” at CEA (College English Association), April 2018
- “Edgar Allan Poe and the Detective Character.” Full article. Pulse, 2018
- Presentation of “Edgar Allan Poe and the Detective Character” (shortened essay) at CCTE (Conference of College Teachers of English), March 2017
- Cover Designer and co-editor of One Life by Matthew Brennan, Lamar University Literary Press, Fall 2015
- Published articles in Lamar University Press, Fall 2016

HONORS AND PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS

- Yvonne Ritter Scholarship in English and Modern Languages, Lamar University, 2015-2017
- Member of Texas A&M Academy for Future Faculty (AFF), 2017-Present

- Member of the National Center for Faculty Development and Diversity, 2017-Present
- Member of CEA (College English Association), 2018
- Member of the Poe Studies Association, 2017-Present