

Fall 2019 Course Descriptions

Instructor: Kallendorf

Course: ENGL 219

Title: Literature and the Other Arts

Description: This course approaches imaginative literature as an aesthetic experience that can be linked to other aesthetic experiences like painting, sculpture, and music. The movement of the course will be broadly chronological, but we shall focus on certain key moments in which the interrelationships among the arts are especially fruitful. The emphasis will remain on the western tradition, but we shall take several trips into non-western cultures as well.

Proposed Readings: Norton Anthology of World Literature, Shorter 3rd edn., 2 vols. , plus a few readings on ecampus
