

Fall 2019 Course Descriptions

Instructor: Dr. Katayoun Torabi

Course: ENGL 330

Title: Arthurian Literature

Description: This course explores Arthurian literature from the Middle Ages to the present. We will look at texts written in English, French, Latin, and Welsh from the sixth century to present day, including works by Marie de France, Chrétien de Troyes, the Gawain-poet, Sir Thomas Malory, and Alfred Lord Tennyson. We will also examine modern adaptations and appropriations of the Arthur legend in film, television, music, art, games, and in online formats. All texts for the course will be in translation except for those written in Middle English.
